

Interactive Storytelling

Storytelling is a vital and creative means of supporting children's language, motor and social development. As well as being the foundation for literacy skills, stories help children express themselves and assign meaning to the world. Through stories we develop communication, build and bond relationships. Early literacy and FUN come together when we capture children's attention and engage their imagination through story and sensory-based input.

South West Kids Clinic is offering Interactive storytelling in the School Holidays. A Speech Pathologist and Occupational Therapist will lead a range of communication and sensory-based activities to stimulate and engage each child through dramatic story, movement, music and craft. With our talented therapists facilitating the program, the children actually BECOME THE STORY!

In each one-hour session, participants will gain valuable skills in early-literacy, language, and active play. The program has been specifically designed to develop communication, co-ordination and confidence. Parents will also benefit from the language enrichment and sensory stimulation strategies used by our therapists. You may choose to attend one or both groups!
